1- Read the following text and answer the questions below: (15pt)

> In ancient times, a man named Abraham played a significant role in starting the religion known as Judaism. He believed in one God, which was a new idea at the time. Abraham's family faced tough times due to a lack of food in their homeland of Canaan, so they moved to Egypt for safety. However, they ended up as slaves there.
> Many years later, another important leader named Moses emerged among the descendants of Abraham. Moses led his people out of slavery in Egypt in a journey known as the Exodus. During their travels, Moses went up a mountain called Mount Sinai. There, he received important rules from God, known as the Ten Commandments. These rules helped guide the behavior of the Jewish people.
>

According to your opinion, choose one of the leaders above whom you find the most influential historical figure among the Hebrew people. The text should provide a clear idea about: Who is he? When and where? And why do you think he was an important for the Hebrews?

1.
A. Abraham's belief in one God was considered new and important during his time because most people at that time believed in multiple gods. His belief challenged the common polytheistic beliefs of his society and laid the foundation for monotheism.

B. Moses demonstrated leadership during the Exodus by leading the Israelites out of slavery in Egypt. His guidance and direction were crucial for their escape and survival in the wilderness. This leadership was important for the Israelites as it provided them with hope, unity, and a sense of purpose during a difficult time.

C. The Ten Commandments were meant to teach the Jewish people about how to live morally and ethically. They provided guidelines for behavior towards both God and fellow humans, emphasizing principles such as honesty, respect, and reverence.

D. The stories of Abraham and Moses are important for understanding the history and beliefs of the Jewish people because they symbolize key aspects of their faith, including the covenant with God, liberation from oppression, and the establishment of ethical principles.

i. Chronological order: C - Abraham, A - Jacob, F - David, B - Moses, E - Solomon, D - Saul.

ii. In my opinion, Moses is the most influential historical figure among the Hebrew people. He led the Israelites out of slavery in Egypt during the Exodus, around 13th century BCE. Moses was important for the Hebrews because he not only freed them from oppression but also provided them with guidance and laws, such as the Ten Commandments, which shaped their moral and religious identity for generations to come.
